Dear Families

KS3 Homework

I am writing to inform you that all KS3 English groups are moving towards booklet-based homework this half term. The aim of homework is to help students improve their understanding and performance in English, specifically with their SPAG (spelling, punctuation and grammar) which will help students across all of their subjects. Every KS3 student will receive a booklet each half term containing tasks to complete weekly.

The homework booklet will be most effective if students complete tasks weekly, rather than all in one go. This will allow students to retrieve knowledge and practice skills over an extended period, increasing and consolidating their understanding.

Within English, teachers will be tracking students' progress and building on home learning in the classroom. We hope that you can support us with encouraging your child to complete their weekly homework.

If your child requires any support, please ask them to speak to their English teacher.

Yours sincerely

Mrs J Hanson
Deputy Head of English
